

Who does nobody like?

John Teasdale and Justin Robert Young

Warning

Do not play this game.

You will lose your friends, your significant other will leave you, and your family will never speak to you again.

We haven't played it and neither should you.

How to Play

Who does nobody like? is a party game for 3-12 players to play with the people closest to you.

There are four things you need to play: Number Identifiers, Number Cards, Question Cards, and Envelopes.

Number Identifiers identify with number corresponds to which player.

Number Cards are blank and come in the same numbers as the Number Identifiers.

Question Cards have questions printed on them about the people who are playing.

Envelopes are normal envelopes. Get them yourself, you need one per player.

Give each player one of the Number Identifiers, remove the unused Number Identifiers and matching Number Cards from the game.

Place the Question cards face down in the middle of the table.

Evenly distribute the Number cards among all players.

Give each player an Envelope.

Take a deep breath.

Each Round

Everyone draws a Question Card and takes turns reading it aloud.

For your question, pick a person in the group who best fits the question and sneakily put a Number Card that matches that person's Number Identifiers into your Envelope.

Everyone pass the Question Card and Envelope to their left. The next person votes on who best fits the question in the same fashion.

This continues until you get the Question Card and Envelope you started with back.

Re-read your Question Card aloud and predict which player has the most cards of their number in the Envelope. If you are correct, you score one point.

You can earn two points by predicting that ALL of the cards in the Envelope are the same. However, if there is any card that is not the number you specify, you get no points.

First to 10... wins?

Printing Tips

This print and play version of Who Does Nobody Like is the Black & White version. This will cost around $7 to print at a copy shop. If you want to spend a little more money, we also have a color version that will be much nicer.

Printing and cutting will take about 45 minutes.

Print single sided.

With a large group, you will need to print out more number cards. They are pages 9-20.

For best results, print on card stock. It is a little more expensive, but the paper is thicker, feels better, and last longer.

The print shop should have a big paper cutter. Use that instead of scissors. And take your time, it looks much better in the end.
